

Regional Transportation District

1600 Blake Street
Denver, Colorado 80202-1399
303.628.9000
RTD-Denver.com

June 29, 2004

Denver Public Schools High School Students and Parents:

RTD is pleased to work with Denver Public Schools (DPS) to provide public transportation services for high school students this coming school year. Many students have used RTD services on their own in the past and have taken advantage of 10-Ride Discount Ticketbooks and the TeenPass. This year DPS will discontinue yellow school bus service for many currently eligible high school students and, instead, provide these students with special DPS-RTD Passes or 10-Ride Discount Ticketbooks for use on RTD bus services.

As usual RTD will continue to provide additional service during the school year to accommodate the expected additional student ridership. It is important to note the following:

- Beginning August 1st, additional school service information will be available for assistance in planning your bus trip. Please call our information center at 303-299-6000.
- Additional school trips will not be in the RTD's Trip Planner on our website until September 5th. Our website is <http://www.rtd-denver.com/>.
- The Trip Planner shows a conservative schedule plan where there is not less than a 5-minute transfer (if one is required). You may find quicker itineraries by looking at the specific route schedules of interest to you.
- Beginning August 1st, advance information about school service will be provided on a separate page in the RTD website, and that information will be supplemented or updated as it becomes available. (For example, there may be adjustments after Labor Day.)
- The special DPS-RTD Pass is good for riding any time on any Local RTD bus and Light Rail north of Hampden Ave. during the valid month, and is worth 60¢ toward the fare on any other regular service. A student ID or proof of high school age is required.

Welcome to RTD bus service. We are pleased to serve you.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Tony McCaulay".

Tony McCaulay
Assistant General Manager, Customer Services

TM/AJB